The Maximus System is different from other classical systems of beekeeping; through the use of specific methods, it is oriented towards the real, actual needs of the bee colonies, in direct connection with both the material and the universal laws governing matter and substance. It is characterized as a "HOLISTIC System" and introduces for the first time the "MATRIX Concept." This is an "intangible abstract element, belonging to subtle plans," as defined by the author, representing the very basis of the life of a bee colony. With a view to assessing what happens at a certain point in the bee colony, the author introduces the "eloquent honeycomb method," which consists of introducing an empty frame into the hive without an artificial comb attached to it, where, by liaising to the matrix, the bees will build up in a few days (or not) a natural comb from bottom up, with differentiated cells in...
