That it would be withheld from one quarter, there is every reason to apprehend; but that it would, therefore, be transferred to the other quarter, there is little or no reason to hope. The habits of the people are not so easily moulded, nor can they be so safely tampered with as some would imagine. There might be arithmetic in the argument of those who contend on this ground for the abolition of the supplement; but most assuredly there is not in it a sound or experimental judgment of human nature. We think that those who contend for the abolition of onr supplements might be instructed by the.results of a former abolition, even that of the seat-rents. The calculation was, that all which might...
