Excerpt: .spectator, but rather to render the production more perfect in its appeal both to the senses and the soul. The root, trunk, branch, leaf, flower, fruit, and seed have each a peculiar character as well as a special mission, the wonders of which can only be fully revealed by the microscope. Thus viewed, they appear to vary in an endless diversity, each working for the same end and by means of the same law. No part in either the smallest leaf or the most minute fibre but what is formed with the most exquisite exactness and consummate skill. What a mystery is growth! The man who does not care and ceases to grow becomes torpid, stiffens, ia in a sense dead; but he who has been growing all the lime need never stop; and where growth is, there is always a capability of change....
